Alvin Seng Kingphilavanh
Infant Son

LOWELL—The many friends and family of Linna Seng and Thongphanh “Danny” Kingphilavanh will be saddened to learn of the death of their infant son Alvin Seng Kingphilavanh, who passed away on Friday afternoon, October 22, 2010 at the Floating Hospital for Children – Tufts Medical Center in Boston.

Alvin was born in Carrollton, Texas on April 25, 2009. Although he was only 1 ½ years old, Alvin was larger than life. He was a happy baby who could make everyone laugh. Alvin was happy all of the time. He loved music, loved to dance, and was a very social little guy. Some of his favorite things were sharing his food, giving kisses, and being snuggled. Alvin loved snuggling with his Teddy Bears and other stuffed animal friends. He enjoyed making and watching You Tube Videos of himself. Alvin loved the water and it didn’t matter if it was swimming in a pool or playing in the bathtub. Alvin liked to observe everything around him. He liked to go out and explore.

Most of all he loved his Mommy and his Daddy and he knew they loved him.

Surviving Alvin are his Mother, Linna Seng of Abington, MA; his Father, Thongphanh “Danny” Kingphilavanh of Lowell; his maternal grandmother, Min Seng of Texas, his paternal grandfather, Akhom Kingphilavanh of Tennessee, his paternal grandmother, Bouarivanh Sonekeo of Lowell and his paternal step grandfather, Thou Maharath of Lowell. Alvin also had many aunts and uncles including So T. Cervantes of Abington, Maly Seng of Maryland, Ngoeur Heng Seng of Texas, Tony Kingphilavanh, Sonny Kingphilavanh, Jimmy Kingphilavanh, and Andy Maharath all of Lowell, and one cousin, Aeson Cervantes of Abington.

Family and friends gathered for services for Alvin on Friday and Saturday.
