“ I know you were there to meet him and held his hand at the gates so Pls look after joshua for us baby, send rose my love and thank you for everything especially the memories. With all of you gone a chapter in my life is closed. I ache when I think of you and josh being gone and now that I'm back at the lake I'm reminded of you guys everywhere I look. God you were rec!!! A tornado wrapped in a hurricane. You loved furiously, especially Brayden and faced every challenge no matter how difficult fearing nothing and it was an honor to have your back. What a shame others who claimed they love you didnt....you would have had a chance, and I will forever regret not being there for you when you came home. But now you are truely home, and you guys are all together. I'm positive we will see eachother some day so keep an eye on your family and give em the business up there and tell rose and josh I will keep my word....it'll be my pleasure.

All my love little chika, j

“ Last night this beautiful young woman was put to rest. Alena you were such an amazing young woman. Everyone who loved you has beautiful memories of you to keep your spirit living. You may not be here physically but you live threw all those who loved you in spirit, and you will certainly never be forgotten. You were certainly one of a kind. A smart, beautiful, wise and strong young woman. You carried yourself with such confidence. I know the struggles you had all to well, but you continued to fight and you didn't give up. You loved hard for those you cared about and there isn't anything you wouldn't of done for your family. You don't have to fight anymore, you can finally rest and look down upon those who love you and watch and protect them. We will continue to fight in your name and in memory of you to try and help others like you and I who suffer from this disease of addiction. Heaven couldn't of gained a more perfect angel, and those who loved you couldn't of lost a more perfect Mother, Daughter, Sister, Niece, Aunt, Cousin or Friend. Your presence has touched the lives of all those you knew in such a powerful way. May you always rest easy and know you were loved by so many and still are and will always be.

With much love,
Katy Cody and Darryl Buchannan

Dawn Did you feel offended because Katy didn't add your kids into her comment. I shouldn't even do this but your such and attention seeker. My sister didn't even know your kids and you know that. They aren't sad and your not either your a liar. I don't like you because you do things like this. Katy had it right. Rose Joshua and Bridget. We are Alena's family. We are the ones that grew up in the same house. My sister didn't even know you or your kids. Like why did you feel the need to post this. Stop looking for attention off my sisters death. She is my sister. She is Joshua's sister. She is Rosemarys daughter. She is nothing to you or your kids please stop I don't like what you do. My sister didn't even know you or your kids.
