“ I have known and worked with Brian for 12 years he started At Rehrig pacific co as a welder then quickly moved up to be a key member of our Maintenance team as a machinist in the toolshop. Being from Boston myself we both love New England sports teams rooted Celebrated a lot and yes fiercely defended all of them through the years.

I have been a coworker boss student and best of all a friend of Brian's since the day we met.

I will miss my friend. Praying for strength and healing for the entire Bickford Family 🙏

Rest In Peace Brian.

Till we meet again.

Love and respect Shawn Powers

You were one of my first friends ever, We used to swing and play prices, pr.pr.pr.prices. just a couple of silly little kids, you were so creative and bright, I can't imagine growing up without you. They say friends are the family you choose, I'm so glad you chose me as a brother. I always looked up to you, people as funny as you were make you step your game up, that always made for plenty of hysterical times. You had a way about you and I always felt privileged to be a part of your world. Things would have been pretty dull in the hood without you around to shake things up. There is so many awesome memories of us hanging out, whipping rocks at bee's nests, playing orb ball, clip (all crazy games you came up with) lighting bottle rockets at phish on the 4th that time off my hat lol. I feel like there's mile markers in the walk of life, this is more like a telephone pole. Things will certainly not be the same without you. I really wish I would've called more often or more recently, but I am glad I got to tell you I loved you the last time I saw you. I wanna just say thank you so much for all the artwork, bass playing (the limp arm surely wouldn't exist without it), funny ass sayings that I may have stolen, this cilid cyber lobster you drew on a pizza box that I got tattooed on my arm, but most importantly for your love and friendship throughout the years. One of a kind people like you are a true blessing and I wouldn't be half the man I am today if it weren't for you. Cilidion is a bit darker with you gone, but I know you would want me to be strong and brave. Love and remember you always your buddy for eternity,
