“ When we were kids, Brian would teach me a new drawing on a regular basis. I still use these doodles VERY regularly. Last time I saw him I told him I've drawn probably about 50,000 of the Mickey Mouse doodles he taught me and he laughed and said I probably owe him royalties.

Life was never easy for him and I just really hope from the bottom of my heart that he is now at peace.

I love you Brian, please watch over the family.
