

Mrs. Joanne M. (Greenhalge) Cormier

August 17, 1962 - June 7, 2014

Joanne M. Cormier

Loving Wife, Mother, and Grandmother

LOWELL—Joanne M. (Greenhalge) Cormier, 51, passed away unexpectedly at her home in Maine, June 7, 2014, following a lengthy illness. She was the beloved wife of Jeffrey Cormier of Lowell, to whom she was married to for 31 years.

Joanne was born in Nashua, NH on August 17, 1962, a daughter of John “Jack” Greenhalge who survives her, and the late Phyllis “Sis” (Corey) Greenhalge who died in 2012. Joanne grew up in a large well known family in the Highlands neighborhood. She attended Lowell Schools and was a graduate of Lowell High School. She was also a graduate of Northeastern University. For many years Joanne worked in accounting for the Internal Revenue Service in Andover, until illness forced her retirement.

Joanne was all about family. Spending time with her granddaughter Bella was her most favorite things to do. She loved the beach in Maine, and spending time there with her husband and family.

In her free time, Joanne enjoyed making crafts, jewelry, blankets, and candles.

Surviving Joanne are her husband, Jeff Cormier of Lowell, her father, John “Jack” Greenhalge ; her daughters, Angela Cormier of Lowell and Cortney Greenhalge of Salisbury; her granddaughter, Bella Marion; three brothers, Ricky Greenhalge and his wife Stacy of Lowell, Kevin Lehoullier and his wife Michelle of Pepperell, and Jackie Greenhalge and his wife Becky of Lowell; also several nieces, nephews, cousins, and her best friend and cousin Kathy (Libera) Maclauchlan of Loudon, NH. Joanne was the sister of the late Cathy Kelly who died in 2005 and Jay Greenhalge who died in 2007.

“ I love you Joanne. here is a picture of the card from the bracelet you bought me being proud of how hard I was and still am working for my sobriety. I will always cherish it. like the bracelets qualities; I have the strength to overcome any obstacles. My sobriety will last an eternity. Last but not least we shared a very special connection. I will miss you so much. I realize its a selfish thought and that you are at peace and no longer sick or in pain. Thank you for being my friend and my moms best friend.

“ Joanne you have always been a big supporter of me and most recently monumental in my sobriety. she was one of my favorite people I could not be happier to call her family but more so to call her friend. A beautiful woman with a beautiful heart, a rare combination. I will miss her often and I hope she is in the summerland with mu sis and my dad.

*Kathy
I was just talking to Tim about Nascar and her going to the laundromat and how much she loved and looked forward to that. There are so many wonderful memories and because of Joannes presence on earth this world is a better place. I know you two were best of friends and how much love there was. I was concerned about how you were doing just know there are prayers for you as her friend and also prayers for her family which is also you. If I can help in anyway please let me know. I told Jeff the same. I was fortunate to have known her.*

“ We all have so many memories of Joanne. If you were lucky enough to be in her life, then you know that she would do ANYTHING she could to help you out. If she didn't have it to give... she'd find it. Where to start. Her first coma, Jeff drove her everyday to my house into a waiting HOT TUB OF WATER, in our jacuzzi. After an hour in there I'd carry her to the bed for an hour and a half deep tissue rub down. We weren't going to let the fact that she weighed 75lbs stop her from walking again. I'd drop her off, go back at lunch and back again after work. She would always joke that her skinny bony ass would be burned in my memory forever. We all know Joanne called it as she saw it. No holding back.. And that's what made her REAL. NO PUSSY FOOTING AROUND.LOL Even my wedding, she got into an argument with my sister for throwing baskets of hot rolls from the head table at JR.. No shame in her game...On one of many family cruises she asked me to come over to wax her. When I got there I wasn't aware it was a "FULL" body wax on her kitchen floor an hr before leaving. And in front of the whole family. Omg. Nothing surprised me w/her. I had the unfortunate timing to go and visit Mom with Jo. It was awful. I had to hold her up and unfortunately NOW THANK GOD TO CORTNEY ...SOMEONE IS THE TO HOLD JEFF AND ANGELA UP. All I know is God called for Joanne on Saturday and the only comfort I take is knowing that she is going to a place where she won't be worrying, sorrow, or in any pain. And we all know that MA (sis) and hopefully ma's got my Patrick IN Check By now and of course Jay and Jr. Will all be there to waiting. AGAIN... IF YOU WERE LUCKY ENOUGH TO BE LOVED BY JO, YOU KNOW GOOD OR BAD DAY, MAD OR SAD DAY, YOU WERE ONE OF THE LUCKY ONES. ONE MORE THING...SHE IS THE MOST BEAUTIFUL ANGEL ..AND I KNOW SHE IS WATCHING OVER HER MOST PRECIOUS GIFT, BELLA. I LOVE YOU JEFF, ANGELA, AND CORT. ONCE AGAIN, WE WILL SOME HOW GET THROUGH THIS. ALL OUR LOVE RICKY AND STACY
