Katherine B. Oliver

Loving Wife, Mother, and Grandmother

LOWELL—Katherine B. “Kay” (Koch) Oliver, the beloved wife of William “Bill” Oliver, passed away peacefully on Saturday, January 7, 2012 at Lowell General Hospital. She was 84 years old.

Katherine was born in Lowell on August 10, 1927, a daughter of the late Robert and Gertrude (Wilkins) Koch. She was educated in both the Germantown, PA and Lowell, MA school systems and was a graduate of Lowell High School.

Kay married Bill Oliver on October 13, 1946 and together they celebrated 65 years of marriage, raising three loving children.

Kay and her husband Bill were well known in their neighborhood as the proprietors of Oliver’s Family Variety Store on Gorham Street for many years. Her husband Bill also owned and managed Bill’s Bar and Grill which was also on Gorham Street. When they closed the store in 1985, Kay went to work as a Librarian at the E. N. A very important part of Kay's life was her Faith. She loved her Fellowship United Methodist Church. She was a member for over 70 years and is said to be the oldest member of the first Swedish Methodist Church in Lowell. Kay was strong in her faith. She brought the Grace of God to everyone she touched.

A faithful follower and a true friend of Bill W., Kay was proud of the fact that she was a 50 year member and during that time was able to help others. Kay also was a Life Member of the Ladies Auxiliary of the V.F.W. Post 662-Lowell. Kay was a strong believer in organ donation. She was a member of the Bridge To Transplant Team and it was her wish that everyone would become an organ donor like her.
