Oudalone Souksananikone
Beloved Father

Oudalone Souksananikone, 53, passed away on January 7, 2012 at his home, surrounded by his family. Oudalone was born in Laos on January 7, 1959 and came to the United States in 1990, settling in Lowell. He was the father of Tina Souksananikone, step father of Phathana Phoutavong, uncle of Kathlyn Khounesavath.

Oudalone was a great man inside and out. He loved being around family and friends no matter what. Whenever you needed him, where ever he was, you could depend on him to be there on time. Oudalone loved his only daughter Tina with all his heart. He worked day and night just to make sure he had the money to raise her. Christmas Day, his niece Kathlyn saw him for the first time since he has been sick and he held her and said, "I'm fighting it, I'm fighting it," telling her "Don't cry--you're a big girl now." The night of his death, Oudalone reminded his daughter Tina to take care of her Mother and make sure she focuses on her education. Tina was his number one and he always put her first.

Today she mourns for her father but she also knows that he is in a better place now. Oudalone was very popular in his community. Everyone knew what a great, warm heated person he was and we will never forget that. He might be gone, but he will never be forgotten.

Oudalone is also survived by his wife, Saengphet Phouthavong and his sister, Manolinh Khamvongsa.
