For my mom,

I sure hope you can hear me and that you are always with me. The love you had showered me with since birth makes me who I am and I cannot be without that love. I just want to say thank you, thank you for being you and fighting as long as you did despite the circumstances that were brought onto you or that you had to live through. You never ceased to smile and make sure others were okay no matter how and what you were dealing with. There were so many people in and out of your life and i know it's only because they didn't deserve any piece of you. I hope that I did and said enough to let you know how much you meant to me. You were never ever someone's burden and were always a good mom. You were worth every doctor trip, every hospital visit, every drive, every hug, everyphone call and everything else we lived through. I know I would and everyone else that was in your life would do it a million more times if it meant you were still here with us. Right now my world feels small and broken but I know that if I have any of your strength in me that I will be okay. I am so proud to be your one and only miracle baby. Thank you for my life I am so glad you got to meet your grand babies. Love your "Prettiest baby in the whole wide world"
