“ I will always feel there is something missing with you being gone. I know its only temporary though and well see each other again. We lived together twice (that was enough LOL) and worked at 4 jobs together (that was also enough LOL) . I always thought of us as a Laurel and Hardy or something similar and you were a very important part of that team. Ill miss you brother and take solace in knowing well meet again. I'm sure your dad, nephew Daniel, and your good friend Eddie were the 1st to greet you along with everyone else that went before you. I know your having a heck of a time and are probably being the life of the party as you always were here. Take care dude!!
